

JOZEF ZLATŇANSKÝ

Born 20/05/1953 – Zlaté Moravce (Slovakia)

Education:

Slovak Technical University, Electrical Engineering

MSc. Electrical Engineering,

30/06/1982

Slovak Technical University,

Post graduate study on Nuclear Engineering

Present Position :

Slovenske Elektrarne Member of Enel Group

- Head of Nuclear Oversight (from 01/01/2007)
- Member of Board of Directors of Slovenske Elektrarne a.s.
- Member of nuclear safety advisory committee to the Director General of ENDESA, Spain

Previous Positions:

- Acting Head of Europe Section, International Atomic Energy Agency
(from 01/07/2000 – to 31/12/2006)
- Vice Chairman of the Slovak Nuclear Regulatory Authority
(from January 1993 to June 2000)
- Head of Nuclear Safety Section in Slovenské Elektrárne (1988-1993)

Activity summary:

Independent assessment of nuclear safety, team leader for Safety Culture assessments, Coordination and management of nuclear safety projects in Europe region; safety review missions to NPPs in Armenia, Bulgaria, Ukraine, Czech Republic, USA.

- Invited expert for international safety review missions and invited speaker in international conferences.
- Member of ENISS Steering Committee - European Nuclear Safety Standard Initiative.

My definition of safety culture:

An organization's values and behaviors – modeled by its leaders and internalized by its members – that serve to make nuclear safety the overriding priority.